... this institution is characterized by color ...

... the blend of domestic and exotic hues creates one unified shade ...

each hue represents a distinct object or campus symbol . . .
and yet, appears as one

some of the shades are bleak and unassuming, others are vivid splashing hues . . . the color is excitement . . . the pace is furious

the dominant color is education . . . reflected in the never ending quest for excellence which motivates 7,000 future citizens.

for the inquiring mind the color is eternal, for if it has been gathered in depth its brilliance will never fade.

dedication

friday, november 22, 1963, john fitzgerald kennedy gave to his country all that any man can give — his life. with his death, a spontaneous mourning blackened the nation. so it was at howard university. this campus, like others around the world, turned inward in a soul-searching effort to discover— why!

the next day found the campus "closed." the flag lingering half down the staff seemed so alone. the numerous wreaths placed on campus stood bewildered as if pleading for rational thought and action.

all this for one man who exhibited that quality of greatness so conspicuously present in the ranks of great men. god does reign, and the government is still alive. let us pledge ourselves and our energies anew to freedom and those high and lofty ideals of democracy for which john f. kennedy stood. let us, too, say to the cause of free men and those who would be free everywhere, "i will do my best. that is all i can do." lyndon baines johnson could say no more; can you afford to say less?

the college of pharmacy is in the last stages of transition from a four year to a five year program which was begun in 1960. this transition has made possible a more liberal education for the pharmacist while maintaining the same high standards traditionally associated with the college. along with this, there has been renewed emphasis placed on the professional aspects of pharmacy which is evident throughout the profession.

the pharmacist serves a vital facilitating function to the community as a necessary link in the health chain. the pharmacy student is preparing to insert himself into that chain.

Law Journal Staff

I wonder which case it was!!!!

Students often work late attempting to meet deadline for the Law Journal.

The Work-Study Scholarship program is a means for many of us to afford a legal education.

The professor and the student are the hosts for many guests at the School of Law.

sigma delta tau

The officers of Sigma Delta Tau lead the School of Law in many activities for the school year.

The fraternity has just completed initiating new members into its organization.

The Chief Justice discusses the problems concerning the fraternity at its regular meeting.

The students at the School of Law receive much aid from the students who work in the library.

The Library affords excellent atmosphere for the student for individual study.

Some of the students find it better to study with other classmates.

first year class

The freshman class takes a tour during the freshman orientation program.

The first year's work is very strange for adjustment can be a problem.

This class is fortunate to have many young ladies.

second year class

Dr. Morse often gives the students of the second year class an opportunity for outside research and lecture.

The second year class usually debates many legal points without any final conclusions.

The students of the second year class are quite informal after the first year's ordeal.

In promoting the class activities, it may become quite difficult to persuade a second year student.

third year class

When the law student reaches his third year, he is able to cope with conflicts with some degree of confidence.

The third year class members debate points that only a judge could settle.

These third year ladies have finally accepted that law is first and womanhood is second.

The seminar in International Organizations is often controversial.

The amount of time spent on laywork problems is exhausting.

The work increases in class meetings as Spring nears.

At many socials the faculty participates fully with the students.

The School of Law is small enough for all students to meet and aid each other in their studies.

Mr. Arthur Woods was given an award at this social before leaving the School of Law as a faculty member for a position with the Federal Government.

These functions give both the faculty and the students an opportunity to relax.

The long day in the life of the student nurse

The awakening

Fortification for the long day

Now, to class

A great deal of time is spent pacing the corridors.

At the hospital, the student nurse uses her hands for many things

Hands properly directed, easily prepare needed supplies

The student nurse soon learns the importance of the careful dispensing of all medicinals

A few spare moments spent in concentration

In the registrar's office a future nurse discusses the coming semester

The nurses' station buzzes with activity.

... a brief stop in the corridor
to receive gems of knowledge ...

Will the patient say "OUCH"?

A few hilarious moments brighten the day.

... study is necessary,
study is demanding,
study is rewarding ...

... but a pause is inevitable.

Happy faces reflect the joy of giving.

... social life beckons the nurse, too ...

This is a grand slam... my dears!

college of

Dr. Russel A. Dixon
Dean of School of Dentistry

you have come to graduation at a period in your life when the challenge for fruitful service is as great as at any time in history. social change is a challenge to keep abreast with scientific knowledge and advancement. the need for people in the healing arts is greater than ever before. in fact, the most recent survey of dentistry by the american council on education has exhorted the profession to double its annual number of graduates by 1965 in order to keep the ratio of dentists to population at the level that existed in 1960. this places great responsibility on every dental practitioner to render the most comprehensive and broad service of which he is capable, and to give his best efforts towards recruitment and continued development of his chosen field.

may your service to humanity prove equal to the challenge. you have my heartiest congratulations and good wishes.

dedication

the college of dentistry dedicates its section of the bison to our late and beloved professor of research, dr. harold s. fleming. before coming to howard, dr. fleming's background included undergraduate work at brown university, graduate work at harvard and pennsylvania universities, with research and teaching positions at yale university. dr. fleming was both a research scientist and an untiring teacher. his works were published on more than sixty different occasions in the united states and many other countries. he also found time to lecture extensively throughout all parts of the world. those of us who had the privilege of knowing him can never forget his unquenchable thirst for knowledge. those of us who were fortunate enough to be his students know what is meant by a true and dedicated teacher. his doors, both at school and home, were open at any time of day and night for the student seeking help.

dr. fleming has left howard university a legacy of inspiration and leadership which will live forever and for which we will be eternally grateful.

Dr. Inabel Lindsay, Dean of the School of Social Work.

the school of social work at howard university, founded in 1945 and accredited by the council on social work education, offers a two year program of professional education at the graduate level for qualified students planning to enter the field of social work. this leads to the degree of master of social work.

in addition, the school provides opportunities for professional education to persons employed in social agencies; encourages the development of research projects in interested community agencies; and offers leadership in the development of professional social work education and practice, with a view to contribute to the improvement and extension of health and welfare services.

the school attracts persons from all parts of the nation and from many foreign countries. the typical student in the class of 1964 carries also the roles of spouse and parent. his life is characterized by a multitude of responsibilities and pressures stemming from family, class instruction, thesis project, and field experience. having to divide his time and energies in several directions, it is not unusual that some facet of his life becomes neglected. most frequently this facet is himself and his family. hence, the typical student in the class of 1964 values as half the battle, the understanding and support which his family provides.

a special research project in which the school is currently involved is the junior village project study of sample families whose children were placed in junior village during 1962. the project is financed by research funds from the children's bureau.

"youth
nonviolence
and social change"

the conference probed deeply into the anatomy and impact of the nonviolent movement. challenging questions...how much provocation can a non-violent fighter take before he breaks into violence? or if he can hold himself in check during the campaign is he more prone to become violent afterwards...the controversial negro novelist wondered, how long can we not fight back; particularly where it is a matter of self-defense...concerning sociological and psychological aspects of the movement...its content, the reactions it provokes appear to be an intersection between a number of psychosocial and political forces in the south and the evolution of a new social character in negro youth...on legal and constitutional aspects...30 american states, many english commonwealth and european countries make provisions for the rights of negroes to public accommodations...ineffective federal laws...to prosecute a policeman who has bruised and beaten a negro, you must establish the policeman's fixed intent to deprive the negro of his constitutional rights...it is one thing to say justice rolls on like mighty waters, but it is another thing to work out an irrigation system...impact on individual and community...communities have learned the power of demonstrations coupled with economic withdrawal...involvement in the movement has given meaning and purpose to the lives of former gang members...added significance to the lives of individuals.

President Nabrit opening the Conference remarked, "We should take this time to look at the anatomy and impact of one of the great social forces in our time."

sports

soccer

The 1964 Bison Soccer Team compiled a 7-1 record and was invited to the NCAA playoff

Winston Alexis became Howard's sixth All-American and the second player in Bison history to be named to the first-string All-American Team.

Alexis in action

Goal Keeper and Captain, Carlos Paul, was the seventh player to be named to an All-American Squad.

The Booters head for the Akron goal. Howard won 3-2.

Nixon Asimoni fights two American University players for control of the ball. Howard won 2-1.

Stanley Samms seems to have lost sight of the ball as he boots it toward the American University goal.

Philadelphia Textile proved to be a strong opponent, but the Booters managed a 3-1 win on the strength of All-American Winston Alexis' two goals.

football

to say the least, the bison football season started very slowly. after all, when you lose the first five games of the season including homecoming (by a 53-8 score), one might conclude that "wait till next year" might be the best motto to adopt.

however, something out of the ordinary happened which, although it may have contributed only slightly to the rejuvenation of the team, caused the bisons' fortunes to change.

howard traveled to fisk in its usual underdog role. what greeted the team was a newspaper article which quoted the fisk coach as saying he had this game "in the bag."

what followed proved to howard fans that spirit can sometimes overcome physical odds. howard upset the fisk team, 14-6. the bisons then proceeded to upset a highly favored hampton team 32-14, smother a weak gallaudet team 46-8 and win the archer marshall trophy (symbolic of football supremacy in the morehouse-howard series) by topping morehouse 15-14.

the only reason the bisons did not finish with a 5-5 record was that the livingstone game was canceled due to president kennedy's assassination.

football, especially in the latter part of the season, proved exceptionally exciting.

Coach Tillman R. Sease

Stan Allen, Howard's 1st string quarterback, is "helped" off his feet in the 8-7 loss to St. Paul's College.

When a big halfback comes towards you, it takes good reflexes to out position him and make the tackle.

Howard cheerleaders wait for the big play to unfold. Will the Bisons score?

Zellie Dow made several key catches to help the Bison cause.

The 1964 Bisons turned what appeared to be a disastrous season into a highly respectable one.

When it comes to defense, Bison tackle Harry Simmonds is always on the job.

Howard's fine punter, Bob Mance, was ranked number three in the nation earlier in the season before he injured his leg.

Fumble! Who's got the ball?

Time runs out for Hampton.

The fruits of victory

Speedy halfback Bob Willis races past several Hampton defenders on 37 yard punt return.

With this over the shoulder catch and the ensuing touchdown by Madison Richardson, Howard upsets Morehouse.

End, Zellie Dow, is caught from behind after making one of his many receptions.

The dream of every halfback, including Ceroy Robinson, is to break into the clear.

When your blocking fails to click, there's usually no place to run.

Madison Richardson looks as though he's heading for trouble as he returns this kick-off against Morehouse.

Showing his fine pass catching ability, Jesse Ferguson makes an over the shoulder catch against Virginia State in the Bisons 13-6 loss.

spirit

Accompanied by Wesley Cooke, Mr. Bison, the Howard cheerleaders form an H in a cheer for Howard.

Majorettes such as Norma Jenkins sometimes travel with the Bisons.

Pretty baton twirlers add to the pageantry of the football season.

The Crew is in its second year as a varsity sport. Howard upset Purdue in its opening meet this year.

Rowing is not an easy sport. It demands stamina and endurance.

Under the direction of Coach Stuart Law, the crew practices on the Potomac River basketball

The 1964 Howard basketball team exemplified hustle and determination throughout the year.

featuring a speedy but inexperienced team the bison basketballers look to improve their 10-14 record of the past year. freshman, aaron shinger and ed richardson will surely improve in the coming year.

the loss of veterans wilfred holland, who in his four year playing career grabbed 1000 rebounds, and paul gist, who scored 946 points, will hurt, but with additions from the undefeated j. v., the bisons should shine.

Getting free for a lay-up is easy for Ed Richardson.

Being able to jump high is an asset, especially when your opponent is taller than you.

Driving in for a lay-up, Aaron Shinzler scores against Maryland State.

"Hustling" Charlie Becton places a unique spin on the ball as he attempts a hook shot.

An over-the-shoulder lay-up is hard to stop or make.

Stuffing the ball doesn't take much effort, so he shows little.

Retiring Coach Lafayette Williams will be hard to replace. Under his direction, the Junior Varsity won all ten of the games it played.

wrestling

Staley Jackson attempts to spin his opponent into a pin.

Staley Jackson, Lester Johnson and George Foster won CIAA championships as Howard's wrestling team finished third. Johnson and Foster each pinned their opponent, but Jackson was extended to overtime before winning his fourth championship in as many years.

Lester Johnson is ready to pin his opponent and...

As we leave Howard and look back on our campus life, I sincerely hope that you shall find many fond memories in your annual. It was a long and tedious job for me but it is my wish that you should be proud of the 1964 BISON.

I would like to acknowledge and thank some of the people without whose aid the 1964 BISON could not have been produced. To Mrs. Lois Pierre Noel Jones and Mr. Ernest Goodman, I give a very special thanks for their contributions. My sincerest thanks go to Paul Smith, Beverly Ledbetter, Norlisha Jackson, Arvell Greenwood, and Carl Barnett for their faithful and untiring service to me as editor-in-chief. Mere words can never express my deep appreciation and sincere gratitude for the guidance and aid that Mr. Carl E. Anderson has given me during the many months of getting the BISON ready for press.

To my fellow classmates, I congratulate you on your achievement and wish you success in your future endeavors.

Greeks

from alpha to omega, the social greek-letter organizations of howard university represent a major portion of campus extra-curricular activities. with a common subscription to a spirit of "brotherhood" and "sisterhood," the fraternities and sororities work hand-in-hand in promoting activities beneficial to the welfare of their members as well as to the university community.

an unselfish attitude marks the spirit of cooperation of the Greeks

Hand-in-hand, the Greek presidents symbolize the unity and sentiment which their organizations share as Greeks. (L. to R.) Bob Beale, Griselda Houseworth, Bob Pickett, Norliahia Jackson, Frank Satterwhite, Gail Bovell, and O. Jack Cole.

the inter-greek councils unites the fraternities and sororities on howard's campus and strives to maintain greek relationships on a high level.

although there is intense competition among them, they cooperate in trying to build a greater howard. with the help of members of the faculty, they seek to solve fraternity and sorority problems and to channel the energies of the members of these groups into constructive activities.

Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority

Alpha Chapter

alpha kappa alpha sorority was founded in 1908 at howard university. since that time, the organization has come to be an inspiration and challenge to young women of highest scholastic, ethical, and moral standards, as they work for the betterment of all mankind by fostering love for humanity. there exists in the heart of each sister in alpha chapter a pride not only in belonging to the vast sisterhood, but in being here in the chapter where the dream first materialized. this year, as always, we have attempted to keep that dream bright. the determination of the members to move forward into a new era of greater service and a broader scope of activities can be realized as we sing in our national song:
 "So together anew we will pledge our faith and united we will forge ahead greater laurels to win greater tasks to begin..."

"Goodwill is the Monarch of this House."

at the turn of the century in the beautiful finger lakes region of new york state, seven college men at cornell university, high above the waters of lake cayuga, organized alpha phi alpha fraternity dedicated to manly deeds, scholarship, and love for all mankind. thus alpha chapter of alpha phi alpha fraternity was established on december 4, 1906, and by virtue of this fact, the concept of negro brotherhood was given material expression.

beta chapter was founded at howard university on december 20, 1907, the second chapter in alpha phi alpha and the first fraternity on howard's campus. this position of pre-eminence has been maintained by beta chapter throughout the years. into our fraternal bond, we accept only men of a rare vintage; men hewed from a perfected stone; men who dissatisfied with pervasive mediocrity have accepted as their manifest destiny, "first of all, servants of all, we shall transcend all."

Leadership is our duty—an assumption of intrinsic responsibility by the men of alpha in all spheres of activity. in human rights, dr. martin luther king; in civil rights, attorney thurgood marshall; in representative government, attorney general edward brooke of massachusetts; in the united states congress, representative adam clayton powell; in the creative arts, duke ellington; in education, professor john hope franklin; in world olympic competition, jesse owens. the contributions of these brothers in alpha phi alpha bespeak of the eminence of "our dear fraternity."

Alpha Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc.

the greek letters—omega psi phi—symbolize our motto: "friendship is essential to the soul." believing that men of like attainments and of similar ideals of fellowship and manhood should bind themselves together in order to approach these ideals; brothers oscar j. cooper, frank coleman, and edgar a. love under the guidance of the late brother ernest e. just, gave birth to our fraternity. on november 17, 1911, in what is now thirkield hall here at howard university, the omega psi phi fraternity was founded.

the men of alpha chapter are ever striving to maintain and increase the high standards of excellence, ideals, and the prestige of our beloved organization, the omega psi phi fraternity, incorporated.

Zeta Phi Beta Sorority

zeta phi beta sorors in chapters throughout the united states and africa, recently observed the date of its founding with all five founders living and still engaged in building the image of finer womanhood, scholarship, sisterly love and service.

forty-four years ago this year with encouragement of charles r. taylor and langston taylor, members of phi beta sigma fraternity, zeta phi beta sorority were organized on the campus of howard university.

the activities of alpha chapter of zeta phi beta sorority have been wide and varied during the stormy months of 1963. sorors participated actively in dap, the "march on washington," carloads to mississippi, the voters drive, the annual leadership conference at the myer elementary school, the observance of finer womanhood week (via cultural program), red cross drive, volunteer work at d. c. general and freedman's hospitals, and gave its annual scholarship to an outstanding freshman girl, miss ludie kidd.

alpha chapter plans to continue to uphold the ideals of zeta phi beta sorority. but, we will not be alone in our efforts. for, zetas everywhere will strive toward this common goal, the perfection of finer womanhood, sisterly love and service.

senior mentors

the mentor system at howard university was organized by the late dean slowe in 1930.

as the name implies, it is a guidance system where the older and wiser lead the younger and less mature. the idea is based on the greek story of telemachus, and mentor who leads telemachus on to truth, strength, and great victory.

originally the senior mentors were guides for freshman resident women. however, within recent years they have served as counselors to upperclass students as well; and they have taken increased responsibility in the women's quadrangle.
